POSTAL TELEGRAPHERS JOIN RANKS OF STRIKERS

Offices All Over Country Are Silent Because of General Walk-out.

GOVERNMENT HAS BECOME ALARMED

Difficulty Between Companies and Their Employees Has Not Yet Reached Stage Where President Might Attempt Arbitration.

Albuquerque thus far has suffered from the telegraphers' strike principally in lack of outside news and in almost complete suspension of telegraph business. Thus far only one man, an operator at the Western Union office, who quit Saturday night when the general strike order was received here, has joined the ranks of the strikers, but it is believed that the Postal forces will go out if they are ordered to do so, though no statement to that effect, or in fact to any other effect except that his force is all at work, can be obtained from the manager. He says business is booming at his office, despite the fact that so many large cities are unable to handle business because of the strike.

The fact that the Postal and Western Union operators are out in many cities all over the country is making business slow, and all messages are taken "subject to delay."

The Associated Press situation is unimproved and it is almost impossible to give more than an abbreviated report, as the association is not able to get its matter over the wires. Newspapers all over the world are affected by this strike.

The government is not yet in a position to interfere and suggest arbitration, but unless the two parties to the strike reach an agreement in a very few days, there is little doubt that President Roosevelt will take a hand in the game. Already governmental business is sadly crippled.

At New York.

New York, August 12.—The Postal and Western Union operators in this city went out today in sympathy with the strikers at Los Angeles and Chicago, and from indications here this afternoon the strike has extended to all parts of the country.

Has Force at Work.

Chicago, Ill., August 12.—Both the Western Union and the Postal companies here claim to be in better shape today than at any time since the strike started. The Western Union claims to have 200 men at work and the Postal half that number. Officials of the union, however, claim that neither company has one-third the number claimed, and that the men it has are students who are unable to properly handle business.

Through the Country.

Denver, Colo., August 12.—The entire force of the Postal company struck this morning. Twenty-four out of twenty-five day and night operators went out.

Savannah, Ga., August 12.—All Postal operators here joined the Western Union men in strike this morning.

Salt Lake, Utah, August 12.—The entire Postal force of fifteen men went out this morning.

Government Affected.

Washington, D. C., August 12.—Government officials fear that should there be a general strike, it will seriously embarrass the federal government. Already the weather bureau has felt the effect of the strike, but the situation has not yet reached such a stage as to merit interference by the president.

JAP CLARK GIVES BOND FOR APPEAL OF HIS CASE

His Attorney Indignant Over Published Report That He Attempted to Escape.

Estancia, N. M., August 12.—(Special.)—Jap Clark, who was found guilty here last week of the murder of James M. Chase and was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary, was granted an appeal on Saturday by Judge Mann and he gave bond in the sum of $10,000. Clark's bondsmen are stockmen from near Corona, New Mexico. Attorney Ketchum, who was counsel for Clark, is highly indignant as are a large number of people of Estancia over the sensational story published in the morning journal last week to the effect that an attempt was made to free Clark and that Clark's guards had been changed for that reason. The story was a great injustice to Clark, according to Mr. Ketchum, who says that Clark did not kill Chase and that he will be cleared of the charge on a second hearing.

TERHUNE WAS SHOT AND NOT HIT WITH A SPADE

Examination Proves That Moses Lewis Killed His Partner With a Shotgun.

PRISONER MAKES NEW CONFESSION

Admits That He Fired Load Into Neck and Throat of Victim and That His First Story Was Not True.

Roswell, N. M., August 12.—The alleged confession of Moses L. Lewis, made at the county jail here last week, that he had murdered Leland S. Terhune, his cousin and partner in a farming enterprise near here, by striking the latter over the head with a spade as a result of a quarrel occasioned by Terhune's having accused Lewis of thinking too much of young Mrs. Terhune, was literally "shot to pieces" when Dr. C. M. Mayes, after an examination of Terhune's body, which was found buried in an irrigation ditch on his farm after a long search, declared that the man had died from a gunshot wound in his neck, inflicted at so close range that the skin was powder burned. When confronted with the details of this examination, Lewis "reconfessed," and admitted slipping up to Terhune and shooting him down.

His First Story.

Lewis made his confession last week only when Mrs. Terhune aged 22, and 12 years his junior, was brought into his cell, handcuffed and in tears, begging him to confess and free her from the charge. He broke down then and said he had killed Terhune with a spade. He gave a story that excited some pity in his behalf, owing to his alleged chivalrous action in defending Mrs. Terhune from even her husband's slanders, but the whole story is now known to be false and it is apparent that he killed Terhune in order to attempt to win the widow's affections. She has been released from all blame in the case.

Held Without Bond.

The coroner's jury has ordered Lewis held without bond for killing Terhune with a shot gun. Lewis is apparently beside himself and he refuses now to divulge anything further than his second confession that he did kill Terhune as Dr. Mayes said. He fails to impress the officers that he killed the man during a quarrel, as they believe he slipped up to the victim without giving him any warning, and shot him down. There may have been a quarrel but the officers do not believe there was any such trouble.

Both Well Liked.

At the inquest it was brought out that Terhune had been arrested six weeks ago on a minor charge, but the justice who issued the warrant immediately explained to the jury that it had been a mistake and that Terhune was immediately exonerated.

After the killing, from blood spots on the wagon used by the two men, it is apparent that Terhune was hauled to the irrigation ditch, through which no water was then running, and his body dumped in and buried. But for an unusually heavy flow having washed the dirt off part of the clothing, it is probable that the body might never have been found.

DANIEL'S COMET WILL BE AT ITS BRIGHTEST ON SEPTEMBER 3

From actual photograph of a comet traveling through the sky at the rate of thirty miles a second. The streaks of light around it are stars. The photograph was made by Prof. E. E. Barnard, at Geneva, Wis., by means of telescopic exposure, which was of two hours and twelve minutes duration; hence the streaked effect.

ONE VESSEL IS SUNK AND ANOTHER IS MISSING

Steamer Tennessee Ran Down a Schooner but Latter's Crew Was Saved.

FREIGHT STEAMER NICARAGUA MISSING

Steamer Province via Wilson's Point, Conn., August 12.—The Neptune line steamer Tennessee, west-bound, collided with an unknown steamer off Stratford this morning. The Tennessee immediately anchored and her passengers were taken off by the steamer Maine. The schooner sunk but her crew was saved.

No word having been received regarding the British freight steamer Nicaragua since she passed Virginia Capes on June 8, outward bound, hope for her safety has been abandoned at Dublin, where she should have arrived not later than June 22. Captain Shackelford and a crew of 140 men were aboard the Nicaragua, which was heavily laden with phosphate rock. It is feared that she was struck by an iceberg.

TRAMP THROWN OFF.

Williamsport, Pa., August 12.—A tramp who was put off a Pennsylvania railroad train at Ridgeway, Pa., exploded nitro-glycerine under the cars and five men were injured.

It was not accepted and it is understood that there will be no immediate change in this office. It is understood that several other resignations were tendered the new governor by territorial officials.

Young Man Gets Good Job.

Elmer Marsh, one of the brightest young men in Santa Fe, who acted as the messenger to ex-Governor Hagerman, was today appointed as deputy clerk of the First judicial district court by P. C. Wilson, the new clerk. Mr. Wilson filed a bond of $10,000 furnished through a bonding company.

SHE SCORNE HIM AND WAS KILLED

Leadville, Colo., August 12.—Because she scorned his attentions and threatened to inform her husband if she was further molested by him, Joseph Letty, a Swiss smelter worker, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon fired three bullets from a .25 calibre revolver into the body of Mrs. Albany Cerise at her home in Stringtown, causing wounds that resulted in death a short time later. Letty then ran to his own cabin, a short distance away, where he blew his brains out with the same weapon with which he killed Mrs. Cerise.

MANSFIELD'S HEALTH IS NOT IMPROVED

ONE ROAD HAS HANDLED MILLION POUNDS OF WOOL

Santa Fe Central Has Made Record Breaking Shipments.

IS STILL RECEIVING BIG CONSIGNMENTS

"The Santa Fe Central railway has handled over one million pounds of wool this season and is still receiving shipments," said S. B. Grimshaw, general manager of that line, who spent today in this city on business. "I am very much pleased with the prosperity shown all along our line and of which we are enjoying our proportion."

"The Estancia valley in particular, is prosperous and the homesteaders there are doing well for the time they have been at work. The towns along our line are building up rapidly and a substantial lot of men are at the head of affairs."

"The company is erecting a new depot at Willard which will do much to accommodate the public because it is nearer to the town and more commodious than under former conditions."

Improving the Road.

"From Willard to Stanley we are making improvements in keeping with the general upbuilding of that section. We are repaving and repairing the buildings at Estancia and Moriarty, building coal bins and expect to keep an operator there from now on. Fine water has been struck at this point at a depth of some 140 feet. It is soft and cold and in good quantities. Stanley is gaining in population and promise to be one of the best towns in the valley."

Business Increasing.

"The ticket sales of the Santa Fe Central railway are increasing. The people who fled on homesteads during the past months are now returning from the east and we handle an average of four or five carloads of implements, household goods, livestock, etc., each week."

"The horses and mules these people are bringing into the valley are fine animals, well bred and capable of doing much heavier farm work than the native animals."

"There are two big traction engines operating plows in the valley and a large amount of sod is being turned up. The crops planted in the spring look well and promise a fair field."

"The newcomers are not discouraged—in fact they are optimistic and say they have come to stay. I have not heard of half a dozen leaving the valley after locating there."

"We expect to handle more sheep than ever this fall and winter and the indications are that we will have all we can care for."

Mr. Grimshaw will leave tonight for his headquarters at Santa Fe.

SUSPECTS HAVE BEEN RELEASED

Boulder, Colo., August 12.—Richard Woodruff and Frank Kiser have been released today on the evidence collected not implicating them in the direct act of setting fire to the depot. J. W. Reeves, the brakeman of the Colorado & Northwestern railroad, is still being held, and he will be questioned this afternoon. All the circumstantial evidence collected, and this is the nature of nearly all the cases, is far from convincing strongly to his knowledge of the crime before it was committed.

Sheriff Bartels and Edward Hegg, chief of the Colorado & Southern secret service, believe they have the guilty man under arrest.

STRIKE BREAKERS TAKE PLACES OF SWITCHMEN

Denver, Colo., August 12.—New developments in the switchmen's strike on the Colorado & Southern were not forthcoming yesterday. The road brought in twenty-five strike breakers and began the work of distributing them over the system to replace the switchmen and trainmen who have gone out in order to force the road to grant the advance of 70 cents a day which the switchmen in the local yards are asking.

VALLES IS ACQUITTED OF CHARGE OF MURDER

Jury at Estancia Finds Him Not Guilty of Killing Colonel Chaves.

JURORS DEBATED FOR TWELVE HOURS

Defendant Was Strongest Witness For Himself, and He Absolutely Denied All of Prosecution's Main Points Against Him.

Estancia, N. M., August 12.—(Special.)—"Not guilty" is the verdict returned by the jury which sat in the case of Domingo Valles, charged with the killing of Col. J. Francisco Chaves. This not unexpected verdict came late Saturday night, after a deliberation of twelve hours, during which time, it is reported on the streets, numerous ballots were taken but never was the jury more than evenly divided. Twice the ballot box showed a division of opinion six to six, then the forces for acquittal began to gain ground. The deciding ballot came at the twelfth hour. It was just 12 o'clock, midnight, when Judge Edward A. Mann was aroused from his bed to receive the verdict.

Present in the court room were but a few midnight stragglers, the attorneys in the case, the defendant and his family. All through the tedious hours, the wife and children of the defendant had been present at both night and day sessions and listened to the evidence.

Judge Mann then adjourned court for want of funds, he having previously dismissed all the jurymen not sitting in the trial of Valles.

The Defense.

The beginning of the afternoon session on Friday, the fifth day of the trial of Domingo Valles, found the defense in the midst of its case. Five witnesses were examined during the forenoon. Each of these five were strong witnesses for the defense toward proving an alibi for the defendant, and none of them could be shaken from their original testimony.

The first witness the defense introduced at the afternoon session was E. Sebedra. This witness gave testimony tending to establish whereabouts of Jose Sedillo on the night of the 26th of November and also tending to establish the location of the land marks, which served as a stage for the drama enacted by the people living in the vicinity of the scene of the killing.

The evident purpose of the defense at that time was to show, if possible, that it would be impossible for a person to leave the home of Valles after the time Valles was seen there and reach Pinos Wells by the time of the killing.

Several relief maps were drawn by the witnesses for the defense showing two roads from the ranches of the Lueros to Pinos Wells. And also a route which crossed a gap in the mountains. The territory contained that this trail through the mountains was the route taken by Valles in going to Pinos Wells the night of the murder. On cross examination District Attorney Clancy asked the stereotype question: "What relation are you to the Lueros?"

"All of the first six witnesses were one relation or another to either the Lueros or the Sedillos."

The seventh witness for the territory was George Lathrop, of Santa Fe county, who testified that he slept in the same room with Jacobo Sedillo the night of the killing and saw him the afternoon of the 26th at the place where some sheep were being corralled.

Valles Takes Stand.

The next witness was Domingo Valles, the defendant.

The testimony of Lathrop in this move was not misallied. Valles was a good witness.

The court took a thirty minutes recess, during which time the counsel for the defense sought an interview with his client.

Valles swore that he never had any trouble with Colonel Chaves; that he had never asked for the colonel while visiting at Progreso pretentious to the murder; that he slept in his room the night of the murder and did not leave there at all that night.

"Valles, you are charged with killing Colonel Chaves; did you?"

"No, senator."

"Do you know who did?"

"No, senator."

"Did you ever bear any hatred, malice or animosity against Colonel Chaves?"

"No, senator."

"Did you ever see that gun before?" and Lathrop held up in front of the witness the gun the territory has offered as having been found in the Valles home.

"No, senator."

These were a few of the questions Lathrop asked Valles, and the answers.

Lathrop then measured the defendant's foot with a tape line.

The imprint and a tape line were a few of the things what the jury took with it when it retired.

The court room was packed white Valles was on the stand.

Lathrop continued with and
